What is this study about?

Doctors are trying a new medicine to help children whose neuroblastoma has come back. We would like to ask if you want to help us find out how well it works.

What will happen?

You will stay in hospital for five days every three weeks to have the medicine through a drip. You will have blood tests and some scans. Your mum, dad or carer can stay with you.

Will I get anything for helping?

You will get a £20.00 gift voucher to say thank you after each treatment cycle. Your family can get back the money they spend on travel, parking and food while you are in hospital.

Do I have to say yes?

No. It is up to you. Nobody will be cross if you say no, and you can change your mind at any time.
